

Bioblitz at Sheldon Nature Area
Saturday, April 25th
1-2:30 pm
 Meet at the pavilion

RSVP APPRECIATED!

Register by scanning the QR code

Join us for this family fun event - all ages welcome - free event!

map

“Bringing the world together for biodiversity.”

After an introduction to the bioblitz activities. We will work together in small groups to identify bird, insect, plants and other species.

This is a global event that encourages communities to explore nature right where they live and contribute to the planet by documenting urban biodiversity. Participants record observations of plants, insects, birds, and other animals. Findings will be uploaded to iNaturalist for science. We are participating in collaboration with the Northeast Wisconsin Land Trust.

We'll have some tools available, including nets and magnifiers, but participants are encouraged to bring their own mud boots, nets, and binoculars.

Holly Hoitink

Contact 2020earthtales@gmail.com for more information.